Holiday Safety

With the Holiday season upon us, there will be numerous things that all employees and their families will have on their minds; creating distraction such as annual Christmas parties, either at work or at your home. Safety is the number one priority and ensuring that your guests are taken care of and arrive home without incidents. We don't want them to be a statistic on the road.

1. Safe Ride Sudbury will not be running this year due to the pandemic.
2. Designate a sober driver or arrange another safe way home. Use a taxi, transit, call a sober friend or family member.
3. If you see an impaired driver on the road, contact the police. You may save someone's life!

Happy Holidays, everyone. Christmas is almost here and there are lots of activities going on which can act as distractions to our work. Let's try to minimize the distractions in the workplace during this holiday season.

During the holidays, please be safe!

Remember to be safe when you start decorating and putting your tree up with all the electrical being plugged in. Overusing your outlets or "clogging" your outlets during this time of year is easy to do. Injuries can happen, even with simply plugging in more and running extensions cords for all those Christmas decorations, including your tree.

Message from the Sudbury Regional Police

"This is a reminder that we always have vacancies at Hotel Brady for those who make the choice to drive impaired," the police service said. "Your one-night stay will be free, but the incidental fees associated will be hefty."

Accommodations at the downtown police station "are clean and the beds are firm," police said. "Each room has a less than picturesque view, but you will be safe and so will our community. We will be out looking for qualified guests all year long. Drive safe, drive sober!"
